

WALL WARS: New Plymouth Returned Services Association's controversial wall was spray-painted by vandals on Thursday night. The wall has hit the headlines in recent months after Michael Smither's dolphin mural was painted over in favour of a military theme.

New Plymouth RSA executive secretary Trevor Wylde did not want to comment for fear it would give undue attention to the vandals responsible.

Photo: MARK TAYLOR